

Pro Aris et Focis.

King's Mountain Centennial Celebration.

PROGRAMME FOR CENTENNIAL DAY,
OCTOBER 7, 1880.

NATIONAL SALUTE,
AT SUNRISE.

REVIEW OF ALL TROOPS,
AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M.

PROCESSION TO GRAND STAND,
AT 11.30 O'CLOCK A. M.

PRAYER, - - - By Rev. Wm. Martin.

SINGING OF THE LYRIC,

Written for the occasion by Mrs. CLARA DARGAN McLEAN, of Yorkville, S. C. Music by Prof. E. W. LINEBACK, of Salem, N. C.

Here, upon this lonely height,
Born in storm and bred in strife,
Nursed by Nature's secret might,
Freedom won the boon of life,
Song of bird and call of kine,
Fluttering leaf on every tree,
Every murmur of the wind,
Impulse gave to Liberty!

Then she blew a bugle blast,
Summoned all her yeomen leal;
"Friends! the despot's hour is past—
Let him now our vengeance feel!"
Rose they in heroic might,
Bondsmen fated to be free,
Drew the sword of Justice bright,
Struck for God and Liberty!

Come, ye sons of patriot sires,
Who the tyrant's power o'erthrew,
Here, where burned their beacon fires,
Light your torches all anew!
Till this Mountain's glowing crest,
Signaling from sea to sea,
Shall proclaim from East to West
Union, Peace, and Liberty!

READING OF THE ODE,

Written for the occasion by PAUL H. HAYNE, Esq. Read by
Col. CHARLES C. JONES, of Augusta, Ga.

MUSIC.

ORATION,

By Hon. JOHN W. DANIEL, OF LYNCHBURG, Va.

PROCESSION TO MONUMENT.

UNVEILING OF THE MONUMENT,

By four young ladies representing Virginia, North Carolina,
South Carolina and Tennessee, assisted by the respective Governors of those States.

DRESS PARADE OF TROOPS, - - - - at 5 P. M.

Pyrotechnic Display, - - - at 8 P. M.